Dear Scott:

Thank you for taking the time to meet with students from my Emerging Leader Class. Considering how busy you are, I am especially grateful for you and the valuable time you shared.

In the process of presenting their experience in class, it was apparent learning was immense! The impact of spending time with a true leader is an incredibly powerful experience for them and empowering to them. It is important that you know you have touched many collegians through this commitment. By sharing what they learned from you with twenty+ others truly allows the entire class to benefit from the time you willingly gave.

Please know you are appreciated!

Sincerely,

Kris L. Baack, Ph.D.
